

Waveney Ramblers Waveney Way 2 Gunton Corton Blundeston

OS Map: OL40 Track: TM 55084 95282 GPX for SatNav 10 Miles Updated: 2018

Use the car park at the end of Links Road, Gunton. Head NW from the car park. Cross the road. Head through the kissing gate into Gunton Warren. Head North through the dunes for 0.7 miles, reaching a concrete sea wall. Turn left, west, up Tramp's Alley (tarmac). Cross the B1385. Head right, north, for a few paces. Turn left, west, on a tarmac footpath. Take the first right, north, through the kissing gate and continue north through Corton Woods, staying close to the road. Leave the woods through the kissing gate and continue left, north, along the B1385.

Continue north passing a closed pub, Corton Coastal Village holiday chalets and the White Horse, refreshments! Turn left, west, along Station Road. Turn right, west, along Manor Park Road. Avoid Coleman Road. When the road bends right, continue west down the alley. Go through the kissing gate, then west between fields. Head west through woodland and ignore paths to the right. Leave the woods over a bridge. Head a little north of west across the open fields. Cross a sleeper bridge and follow the leafy path, west, hedge both sides. Head west across the A47.

Take the first left, east, uphill, hedge right. Drop down to the farm track and turn left and immediately right, east, hedge right. Cross the bridge and follow the tarmac, right, east. This 280 metre leg is nasty. When the road bends right, turn left, NE, through the narrow gap, into the field, and continue hedge right across two fields. Leave the meadow by the kissing gate and head east, houses left. At the tarmac, continue east along Union Lane. Cross Oulton Street and head roughly east along Oulton Road North. The road bends right, SE. Turn left towards the traffic lights. Cross Millennium Way and head east along Grassmere Drive, Aldi left. Continue east along the cycle and footpath into Conniston Walk. Turn right, SE, along Foxborough Road. Turn left, NE, along Crestview Drive. Follow the long sweeping righthand bend, eventually heading nearly south. Before the T-junction at the end of the crescent, turn left, east, along the un-named road. This narrows to a tarmac alley. After the church, turn left, NW, along the A47, church left. Cross the A47 at the traffic lights and continue NW for a few more paces. Turn right, NE, along Gunton Church Lane. After Gunton St. Peter's church, turn right, roughly east, along Hubbards Loke. This narrows to a cycle and footpath. Cross the B1385 and continue east towards the sea. Before descending the slope, turn right, south. This path drops gradually to a spring and an unexpected small stream. Continue south through woodland. The path comes out near the kissing gate beside the car park entrance.
