Waveney Ramblers Waveney Bounds Two 35 Wacton and Tyrrel's Wood

Track: TM 20507 89304 GPX for SatNav 7 Miles Updated: 2024-12

Park at Tyrrel's Wood. 8 to 12 cars can park here.

The woodland was dry in late March but there were signs of quite extreme mud from the winter.
Head north into the woodland and follow the Boudicca Way markers.
The trail bends right, NE, and later left, west.
The trail bends right, NW, and finally right, north, as the woodland narrows to a point.
Continue north to Parker's Lane and turn left, west, along the lane.
This road was closed for the recce and the bypass construction.
Head west and cross the new bypass. There might be a helpful roundabout island. Exact details TBC.
Continue mostly west and cross the old A140. Continue roughly west on a footpath.
The path turns right, north, then left, west, round a field perimeter.
Turn left, south, and very soon right, west, crossing Hayton's Lane (Track).
Head west passing Hill House.
Turn left, SW, along the Stratton Road.
Turn first right, west, on a footpath towards Wacton, All Saints church.
Head through the churchyard and turn right, NW, along Church Road.
Follow Church Road as it bends left, SW, and dwindles to a footpath.
Continue SW, converging with the power lines. At Wash Lane, turn right, west.
After a few paces west along Wash Lane, turn left, south, and drop down to a stream.
Cross the stream and turn left, east, stream left.
Turn right, south, along Hall Lane. Continue ahead, south, along Sallow Lane.
Head to Wacton Hall.
Turn left, east, at a complete muddle of restricted byways on the map.
In practice follow the only good track, east, towards the Old Millhouse.
Three byways cut across fields diagonally - ignore these.
At the eastern corner of Wacton Common, turn right, south, hedge right between fields.
Turn left, east, at a conspicuous metal post and head to the A140. Cross with care.
Enter a wooded path, east. Follow this to Tyrrel's Wood.
Inside the woodland, keep right, following the perimeter path.
Turn right, south, and retrace your steps back to the car park.
